PRODUCT OF THE MONTH

Soap & Glory The Righteous Butter, $27.95

The lowdown: This sumptuous cream, containing aloe vera and shea butter, was voted Best Body Butter by UK TV series How To Look Good Naked.

"I'm an avid supporter of fake tans and I can honestly say that this body butter actually made my colour last longer and prevented it from going scaly like old tans normally do. Only one criticism: it would've been lovelier if it smelled fruitier and a bit less like your typical moisturiser."

Vanessa

"This delicious body butter is refreshingly lightweight, gliding on and absorbing quicker than most other butters on the market. Plus, the dainty mix of frangipani, cotton candy, lime and nutty shea had me smelling edible for hours!"

Jacquie

"The first thing I noticed about this cream was the absolutely gorgeous scent. After application, it left my body smooth and smelling amazing. I loved it."

Rebecca

READER'S FAVOURITE PRODUCT OF THE MONTH

"I love Bio-Oil. I use it as a primer and I've found that my make-up stays on a lot longer. It leaves my skin super smooth, especially on colder days when my skin dries out. It's a great moisturiser as well." Hollie, 23 reader's tip of the month.

"I mix yoghurt, apple and honey and put it on my face as a healthy and cheap mask. It makes my skin feel nice, and tastes good, too!" Grace, 25

Face of Australia Concealer in Warm, $9.45

"I always find it hard to find the right tone for my skin, but this one matched perfectly. I especially liked the twist-top pen. The concealer covered the dark circles under my eyes and lasted all day." Rebecca

SAX Concealer in Camouflage, $16.95

"I'm prone to dark eye bags, which can be difficult to cover without looking like you've caked on the make-up. This product was light and lasted all day - perfect for brightening up tired eyes." Vanessa

Bourjois Bio Detox Organic Concealer in Light, $26

"The inbuilt roller-ball applicator made smooth, even coverage super easy and helped to soothe angry puffiness. However, it was a little too thin to handle stubborn blemishes." Jacquie
